FantasyFeedout

Draft Day:

- December 15, 2020
- Students on-site. Once all calves are weighed and penned the students will evaluate the cattle.
- Upon evaluation all students will return to the processing barn and draw a number to decide chapter selection order.
- Steers will be selected using a “snake draft.” The first round order will be reversed in round two, etc.
- Number of rounds will depend on the number of chapters and the number of steers. Chapters can be any size. Teams will consist of 10 students. Chapters can have multiple teams if there are enough steers.

Weekly Updates:

- Each team competes against each other for the best pen. This will determine the ranking of each chapter. Points will be awarded weekly based on average daily gains.
- Each Monday an email with the results of the prior week will be sent to the chapters, including a performance sheet to present standings.
- The season will be the length of the feeding period. The first harvest date will start the playoffs.

Playoffs:

- Points will be given based on quality, yield and profitability.
- Once the playoffs begin all Weekly Update point accumulations will stop.

Champion:

- The chapter with the most profitable steer at the end of the feedout will be the Champion Chapter.
- Awards will be provided to the top five chapters based on average score.
